

Interiors that make you feel good.

HERE'S THE CLUE:

you're sitting in your living room or in a space where you work and everything you look at (1) makes you feel completely relaxed and (2) seems incredibly interesting.

As a designer with 30 years experience as buyer, shop owner and consultant, my INTENTION is to get at the feel of what you're about as a person and to bring that essence into the daily theater of your life.

Design for BUSINESS, HOME and SACERED SPACES

Oh yeah,
this is so me!

I LISTEN INTENTLY, AND I LOOK TO ANSWER YOUR MOST IMPORTANT NEEDS.

FOR YOUR BUSINESS, it may be to organize space, create comfort, brand the environment, or set up a creative atmosphere—all of which helps increase sales and customers and retain employees.

FOR YOUR HOME, it may be to make your house more of a refuge in a time of change, a place where you and your friends want to spend time together or simply a setting that's so innately appealing you can scarcely wait to walk from room to room.

"I was greatly impressed with your spirit and skill as you focused on the relationship between space and productivity."

Greg Walker-Wilson, Executive Director, MOUNTAIN
MICROENTERPRISE FUND

"This is by far the most valuable help we've gotten to bring our house to life." Nancy and Greg Forsythe, HOMEOWNERS

The Way I Think

OR, MY APPROACH

- Everything you say or do in life (or arrange) is meaningful
- The feelings you have about where you live and work can have a profound effect on your life
- The feel of your home, and your business, can be a tonic, a therapy that's good for the soul
- Your home and place of business should balance variety and stability, prospect and refuge
- A home should reflect the textures of its owner's life
- Every design is, by definition, exceptional and individual
- Every place of living or doing business should have its sanctuary and sacred spaces
- Natural materials create the best air for relating to one another
- Humor and whimsy win when nothing else really comes close

Interiors that make you feel good.
